Renovation First Steps

“Demolition Days”

The work done during the first week of the renovation project consisted primarily of removing anything that had been left behind by previous residents, removing two partition walls, and removing old carpet from the staircase to the second floor. In the following pages are a few glimpses of the results of this work that is laying the foundation for the improvements over the coming weeks.

Entry Way Closet

The single shelf has been removed creating a wider opening for future storage options.

Kitchen

The refrigerator and stove have been moved, the pantry walls removed, creating a more functional storage area in the corner of the kitchen.

Front Hallway

- Unfortunately we don't have a comparison photo, but you can see on the wall to the right where a small partition wall used to be. This was removed to open up the entryway a little more.

Bedroom 1

- The room has been cleared out of items that weren't needed.

Second Floor Bathroom

- The wall fixtures have been removed.

Basement

- An old partition has been removed at the bottom of the steps, opening up the space at the bottom of the staircase providing more light throughout the whole space.

Basement Laundry

Several items have been removed from the laundry room area and the freezer cleaned out.
